A NEW GENERATION OF COMPOSITE DOORS

GRiPCORE's brand-new core composition is a first for the market and promises more strength and thermal efficiency than other timber door counterparts.

A traditional foam core that is fitted with horizontal timber plinths for extra rigidity, this central layer is housed between two slim aluminium panels for additional stability and thermal efficiency.

Finished with the signature GRP skins for a smooth and weather-resistant finish, GRiPCORE's new design looks as good as ever with the best hybrid core technology available right now.

1 PIR FOAM

Providing excellent thermal capabilities, far exceeding XPS foam as commonly used.

2 HDF sheets

This high-density product exceeds that of plywood providing brilliant rigidity and strength throughout.

3 Aluminium Sheet

This is a vital layer within the door construction, it adds stability to the door but also protects against moisture infiltration.

4 Exterior grade plywood

Additional sheet for door support under the GRP skin.

5 GRP Skin

The GRP skins are pressed onto the core with a unique method to ensue flawless correlation with the core.

MORE THERMALLY EFFICIENT THAN EVER BEFORE

Brand-new composition presents a first to the UK

Thanks to its one-of-a-kind hybrid material core, GRiPCORE is now more thermally efficient than ever before - rivalling the best-loved alternatives on the market right now.

The layered construction of GRiPCORE with aluminium promises reduced thermal movement that keeps heat in the home with ease, making the winter freeze less of a concern.

The strengthening wooden boxes are filled with PIR foam which provides excellent thermal capabilities, far exceeding XPS foam as commonly used with a u-value of 0.022 W/m2K.

CENTRE PANE U VALUE = 0.8

The unique formulation creates microcells with unrivalled thermal performance and unmatched burglary resistance class.

The addition of 2 thin aluminium sheets adds an initial layer of moisture resistance, as well as added stability.

GRP skins provide a range of finishes as well as an extra layer of strength and moisture protection.

Door colours shown in this brochure should be used for guidance only. We have made every effort to match the colour and stain you see in the brochure, so it's as close as possible to our paint when applied to the doors. Due to the nature of the products it is applied to, there is sometimes a difference between them which we cannot avoid. The colour, intensity and sheen level may differ from the paper print version and we do not accept liability for this for whatever reason. To ensure that right colour for your door, we recommend requesting a colour booklet of our named colours and using an official RAL booklet for any RAL colour.
